

IFC Films Presents I'll Come Running on VOD

I'll Come Running*, 2009, dir. Spencer Parsons, 112 minutes, HD, Color, Unrated.

A casual one-night stand turns into something else entirely for a young Danish man backpacking through the U.S. and the American woman he meets in Austin. Starring Independent Spirit Award nominee, Melonie Diaz (Be Kind Rewind, Nothing Like the Holidays).

Synopsis

Pelle wants a change from his change of scenery. Another day, another place, another postcard, another girl.... But is Veronica really just another girl? It was only supposed to be a stolen, sweaty day together in Texas, and all they have in common is too many hours watching The Simpsons. But when circumstance brings Veronica to Pelle's door in Denmark, this "casual" fling shakes things up for his best friend and family as well. Comedy and tragedy entwine in I'll Come Running, Spencer Parsons' feature directorial debut, a broken romance about what happens when a stranger accidentally changes your life.
