

SPRING FLOWEROUTING

Come join the MWDACC and make your garden ready for summer time at Midwest Groundcovers

Come and get your flowers in the spring time and enjoy them all through the summer!!!

Whether you have a garden, balcony or just enjoy looking at them, here is your chance to get a great deal and get educated at the same time.

Peter Orum will give advice on how and when to nurse various types of flowers and plants and we will be given a guided tour of the 90 acre nursery that was established in 1969.

Take a stroll in the gardens and trial beds which include a spectacular garden designed by Piet Oudolf.

50 % discount of retail pricing will be given on purchases this day.

About Midwest Groundcovers:

Midwest Groundcovers is deeply rooted in the traditions of growth and innovation. In 1969, Peter began a life-long journey that would become Midwest Groundcovers and Midwest Trading. Orum purchased five acres of land on Illinois Route 25, just north of St. Charles, Illinois. Peter's horticultural expertise and Irma's business acumen combined to create an industrious vision for the land. They would produce and sell quality groundcovers at fair prices to local landscapers, independent garden centers, and nurseries. This simple yet brilliant business philosophy translated into continuing success for the Orums and fueled the expansive growth of Midwest Groundcovers during the coming years.
